Program Summary

This presentation will provide an overview of the creation and functions of the Office of Law Enforcement Professional Standards (OLEPS). It will review the history leading to the entry of the 1999 consent decree between the Department of Justice and the State of New Jersey and the Division of State Police; detail the policies implemented pursuant to the decree and discuss the decree's ultimate dissolution in 2009. After the decree was dissolved, the legislature enacted the Law Enforcement Professional Standards Act of 2009 (N.J.S.A. 52:17B-222 et seq.). The Act established OLEPS and authorized it to perform duties and functions that were previously handled by independent monitors and the Office of the State Police Affairs under the consent decree. The presentation also will review OLEPS' reporting and monitoring responsibilities to ensure the integrity and transparency of law enforcement practices.

Who Should Attend?

This presentation is open to all government attorneys, space allowing.

Who Is the Faculty?

AAG Christina Glogoff has been the director of the Office of Law Enforcement Professional Standards (OLEPS) since 2011. Under her leadership, the office was reorganized to more effectively meet its core mission of ensuring the integrity of law enforcement practices and promulgating transparency by publishing the office's findings on those practices. As recognized by the Office of the State Comptroller, under Christina's leadership, the office has "come to be a repository for institutional knowledge of NJSP issues and its staff has gained expertise in overseeing the NJSP process regarding motor vehicle stops and post-stop enforcement activity." In 2016, the New Jersey Law Journal named Christina a Top Women in Law. Prior to becoming director, Christina served as a deputy attorney general in the Division of Law. She joined the Division in 1999, after five years in private practice. As a DAG, Christina was a member of the Division's Litigation Practice Group and served an Assistant Section Chief of the Corrections and State Police Section. Christina graduated with Honors from the University of Texas at Austin in 1991, and is a 1994 cum laude graduate of the Tulane School of Law.
